act in its operations as to extract all the better are about $140,000. qualities of the wheat kernel without impairing the vitality, producing the whitest and best flour the wheat is capable of yielding. This process consists in removing the bran from the wheat by subjecting it to grinding, the dust and bran being reeled out, leaving a mass of rounded, coarse grits of wheat meal, or middlings, which in this form can be subjected to a blast of air which carries away the brown colored dust, and impurities of the exterior coatings. The middlings thus purified and ground again produces this excellent flour, which has come to be the delight of the housekeeper because of its absolute purity and snowy whiteness. By the old process-the flour being made by only one grinding-the brown dust and impurities were to a considerable extent ground up and intermingled with the flour, reducing its color, richness and rising qualities.

The above is taken from an article published in the October number of Harper's Magazine, and all in want of fl ur made by the process above described should ask their grocer for the OCCOQUAN NEW PROCESS FAMILY FLOUR, or apply to

EDGER'S FLUID (RED), THE UNI VERSAL DISINFECTANT. (Perman-ganate of Soda.) It is the only true disinfectant known, all other preparations sold for this purpose being merely deodorizers (or articles which possess the property of overpowering unpleasant smells by their own pungent and often disagreeable and dangerous qualities.) It is particularly adapt d for disinfecting sick rooms in cases of typhus fever, small pox, cholera, scarlet fever, diarrams, and all contagious diseases, and for puritying rooms in which there are dead bodies, removing at once all unpleasant smells, and destroying effectually any latent germs of disease. By placing the diluted fluid in dishes or basins, about bed chambers, school rooms, work shops, hospital wards, &c., it keeps the air in a perfect state of purity. For stables, slaughter ouses, butchers' shops, dairies, cellars, &c., it is invaluable, keeping them in a perfectly wholesome state, by merely sprinkling the diluted fluid over the floors and walls. It keeps dust bins, water closets, drains, urinals, &c. sweet and wholesome, by using once or twice a day. For saie by JANNEY & CO.,
